Dathlu Wythnos Gymraeg a'n Steddfod Celebrating Welsh Week and our Eisteddfod

This year, all staff and children celebrated Welsh week and St.David's Day on Tuesday 1st March. We celebrated by coming to school dressed in traditional Welsh costumes, or by wearing something red, white or green.

In classes, the children thought of a Welsh name for their class, and took part in a variety of Welsh week competitions to collect points. These competitions included: writing Welsh stories, handwriting competitions, drawing a Cardiff landmark and many more!

As well as taking part in the competitions, each class read Welsh folk tales and learned a Welsh song to celebrate our Welsh culture and heritage.

All of the class competition entries were displayed on classroom doors to take part in a final 'best dressed' door competition. Classes worked so hard to get as many points as possible; however, there had to be one winner.

on the week from the Cryw Cymraeg

In year 2 we made beautiful posters about Wales using pictures of Welsh dragons, daffodils and leeks. We also played some Welsh games and songs to practise our Welsh such as counting to the highest number in Welsh and the wheels on the bus. We had a lot of fun.

From the Cryw in Year 2

In our Welsh lessons we have been learning about the time, so we decided to learn a song called Rhoc a RÔl. It was a great song as it helped us to practise telling the time. We are working hard on our handwriting in year 5, so we used a poem called St David's Day by Brenda Williams and wrote the poem in beautiful joined up writing. We used our chromebooks to research pictures of our community and sketched famous places such as the Millennium Stadium. We didn't win, but we had so much celebrating Welsh week!

From Maymuna and Ghali Year 5

I shared with my class what our competitions were going to be for Welsh week. We made daffodils using tissue paper and paper rolls to decorate our doors. We drew pictures of places in Cardiff such as the Millennium Centre and Cardiff Castle to decorate our classroom windows. We also learnt a song by the Stereophonics but we changed the lyrics using Welsh body parts as we have been learning about the body in our Welsh and Science lessons. We had so much fun doing the competitions and taking part in Welsh week.
